Social Responsibility Statement

“As we look at quality in the Telecommunications Industry, QuEST Forum understands the importance of Social and Environmental Responsibility in providing top quality products and services to telecommunications customers.

QuEST Forum acknowledges the ISO 26000 Guidance for Social Responsibility (to be available in 2010) and the ISO 14001 Environmental Standard, and recommends that member and non-member companies reference ISO 26000 and ISO 14001 as guidelines for developing their social responsibility and environmental policies.

Service providers' and suppliers' demonstrated commitment to social and environmental responsibility underscores the overall position of the Telecommunications Industry”
