

Adam Blake Younger – Network and Systems Administrator

Adam Blake Younger joined UT Dallas in July 2009 as Computer Support Specialists and Systems Administrators specially to provide IT technical assistance, support, and advice to the QuEST Forum staff.

As the iDa network and computer systems administrator, he is responsible for local-area networks (LAN), network segments, and Internet and intranet systems of QuEST Forum Computer System and other iDa computer systems, including installation and maintenance of network communication equipment and software necessary for terminals, firewalls, switches, workstations, and servers to effectively communicate via a computer network. He performs daily backups and images of all servers for disaster recovery purposes.